Texarkana Man Dies In Wreck Early Friday

H. A. Davis, aged 41, operator of the Magnolia Motor Motel in Texarkana, was fatally injured about 4:15 a. m. today when the auto which he was driving crashed into the rear end of a large truck on Highway 67 about five miles west of Hope.

State Policeman Dwight Pankey said both vehicles were traveling west and the truck was in process of turning into the Arkansas Weight Station after pausing to let several oncoming cars pass. He had just started his turn when the Davis car crashed into the rear of the truck, the officer said. The Hertz rental van was driven by a Chicago Negro who could not be identified immediately. No charges were filed. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

An Oakcrest ambulance rushed Davis to a local hospital when he died only a short time later.

His body was removed to Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home and was to be picked up later today by a Little Rock funeral service.

Al Graves New Deputy Prosecutor

Prosecuting Atty. Royce Weisenberger after accepting the resignation of Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wilson, who is the new Municipal Judge, announced the appointment of Al Graves to be Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for Hempstead County for the remainder of Mr. Weisenberger's term.

Mr. Weisenberger stated that in his opinion Mr. Graves was a young man of great energy, well trained in the law, who was anxious to be Deputy Prosecuting Attorney and who is willing to give freely of his time in the performance of the duties of the office and to work whole heartedly with all of the officers and people of the county as Deputy Prosecuting Attorney.

He continued, "I am pleased to have the privilege of making this appointment of a young man to give him more opportunity to advance himself in the profession and to serve the people of his county."

Mr. Weisenberger added that he had a son in your first law school at the U of A and he couldn't help but hope that after his boy was through law school and had completed his service in the Army, somebody might give him the same opportunity in the future.

In regard to the resignation of Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wilson to become Municipal Judge, Mr. Weisenberger had this to say:

"Naturally I am sorry to lose in the prosecuting attorney's office the able assistance of my partner, John L. Wilson, who has been my deputy for over three years and has been associated with me in the practice of law for over 11 years. This association has been very pleasant indeed."

"However, Mr. Wilson has for some time had the ambition to succeed Municipal Judge W. K. Lemley as this time as Mr. Lemley would choose to retire. With Judge Lemley's unexpected announcement of resignation that opportunity presented itself and I am happy for him. I am thoroughly satisfied that he will follow well in the footsteps of a man like Judge Lemley, who has done so well as our Municipal Judge for the past 29 years."

Elderly Woman Disappeared at Camden Five Years Ago, Not Heard From Since

By JOHN R. JUTTON
CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Exactly five years ago on a cold and rainy night Maud Crawford vanished. That night Maud, a 60-year-old attorney, was shelling beans in the living room of her 12-room colonial house when at 8:30 p. m. her cousin telephoned. They talked briefly.

TUESDAY, MARCH 20, HEMPSTEAD VOTERS WILL GO to the polls to vote on a county-wide question — a proposal to approve a $245,000 bond issue to enable Delight Egg Farms, Inc., to build a huge processing plant near Hope.

THE PROPOSAL WOULD AUTHORIZE BUT HOLD IN suspense a 2-mill tax to service the bond issue — that is, the tax would not be levied unless Delight Egg Farms, Inc., defaulted on its repayment contract.

UNDER THE CONTRACT DELIGHT WOULD RECEIVE $225,000 of the bond money and repay it at the rate of $15,000 a year for 15 years. The $20,000 difference between the gross bond figure of $245,000 and the net payment to Delight of $225,000 represents reserve money to be invested to provide at least one year's payment to the bondholders should there be a temporary default. Since the interest returned on this $20,000 reserve would be greater than the interest paid out on the equivalent amount of bonds the maintenance of this reserve would result in a profit rather than an expense.

DELIGHT EGG FARMS, INC., IS OWNED JOINTLY BY Corn Belt Hatcheries of Hope and Olson Brothers of Los Angeles. According to statements made to Hempstead Industrial Foundation, sponsor of the funding arrangement, Olson proposed to build one of their huge egg processing plants at Dallas — but Cornbelt insisted that Hempstead county be given first shot at it. If the plant is not built here then construction at Dallas is assured, according to information given the local industrial group.

UNDER THE OLSON BIG-PLANT TYPE OF OPERATION many of these units will be concentrated in one big plant, buildings grouped at one location.

A brother, Erle Simmons of Hope; six sisters, Ida, Mrs. Lurline Smith and Mrs. Velma Ferguson, all of California; Mrs. Lucille Crowder of Dallas, Mrs. Lillian Smythe of South Carolina and Mrs. Maggie Davidson of Washington, Ark. Well Known Persons Aboard Plane

NEW YORK (AP)—Some traveled with their wives, and a few were in small groups, but most of them had never met. They had little in common—except their destiny.

That destiny arrived for the 65 passengers and crew aboard an American Airlines Astro-Jet Thursday. In a violent moment, they were plunged into the muddy water of Jamaica Bay.

Some of them had been prominent men.

The passenger list included such men as W. Alton Jones, 71, executive committee chairman of the Cities Service Co. and a longtime friend of Dwight D. Eisenhower. He was on his way to meet the former president for a fishing trip in California.

Also among the passengers was retired Adm. Richard Lansing Conolly, 60, and his wife of Westbury, N.Y. Conolly, former deputy chief of naval operations, had been president of Long Island University since 1953.

And there was Irving Rubine, 51, vice president of Highroad Productions, the independent film company that had turned out "The Guns of Navarone." Rubine, a New York newspaperman-turned-producer, was on his way to Hollywood to discuss Academy award campaigning for the film.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Lange of Bronxville, N.Y., were on the first leg of a world tour. Dr. Lange, 52, who was consultant to the theological seminary of the board of national missions of the United Presbyterian Church, was to have preached at the Easter sunrise service in Jerusalem.

John Dieckman, 35, of Costa Mesa, Calif., was the world fly casting champion. He was on his way home to his wife and his job as a fishing tackle designer for the Garcia Corp.

Arnold S. Kirkeby, 60, of New York City, was a prominent financier-realtor-developer who owned extensive property in the Los Angeles area.

Decision on Nuclear Tests Is Expected

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to announce tonight that the United States will resume testing nuclear weapons in the atmosphere next month unless the Soviet Union agrees quickly to a reliable nuclear test ban treaty.

The long-awaited announcement of the President's decision on new U.S. air tests, will be carried across the nation by network radio and television and to the world by the Voice of America.

The White House announced only that Kennedy will speak at 7 p. m. Eastern Standard Time on the subject of nuclear testing and disarmament. However, according to reliable advance indications he will make a last-chance bid to the Soviet Union to join in a nuclear test ban treaty, backed by strong international inspection, which could make further testing unnecessary.

Authoritative informants said that barring some radical and unexpected change in the nuclear test situation Kennedy was resolved to go ahead with the test series for which preparations began about two months ago.

These informants declared, however, that the tests would not start until April. In the meantime the disarmament negotiations are scheduled to get under way at Geneva on March 14 and the United States and Britain are seeking a preliminary foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union at which the nuclear tests issue would be discussed.

From the timing of these developments it is obvious authorities said, that there is still opportunity to agree quickly on a nuclear test ban treaty but such agreement would require a reversal in Soviet policy on the inspection issue.

Officials expected that Kennedy would emphasize this opportunity in his broadcast address and perhaps in other ways urge Soviet Premier Khrushchev to reconsider his position and tackle anew the problem of test ban negotiations.

The heart of the issue is that the United States and Britain assert any acceptable test ban treaty must provide an international inspection system to prevent cheating. The last Soviet proposal made to the Western powers at Geneva late last year called for national inspection systems, which the United States and Britain denounced as unreliable "self inspection."

The White House itself gave no advance hints of the content of the President's speech and there was some suggestion in official quarters that it might contain surprise elements. Throughout the government officials were under instruction not to discuss it.

However, the core of the President's argument concerning a Western need to test was stated recently by him at several news conferences.

He has said that the Soviets broke a three-year moratorium with a test series starting last September and there was danger of major Soviet gains in nuclear weapons if the Soviet Union holds another test series.

Soviets Threaten

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Fedorenko said today the Soviet Union will have to resume nuclear testing if the Western powers do.

Emergency Funds Used at School

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus used $7,000 of his emergency fund Thursday to help the state Girls Training School pay its bills through June 30.

Faubus said the school can use the money to buy equipment, make repairs or for normal maintenance.

The school's water system required emergency repairs, and available funds were used for payment, Faubus said.

School Drop Outs in Real Trouble

ST. LOUIS — Almost a million lost, bewildered, defeated, hopeless youngsters will leave school before graduation this year and enter a world which has no place for them, an expert on youth problems said today.

Daniel Schreiber, director of the school drop-out project of the National Education Assn., said of them:

"Constantly running from work half-done, from school half-completed, these dropouts are truly fugitives from failure."

Schreiber said half the dropouts will be unable to find work. Those that do, he said will be restricted to such unskilled jobs as filling station attendants, stock clerks and car washers.

Jobs that these youngsters can handle are rapidly disappearing, Schreiber said. He cited these figures:

During the past 10 years, 50,000 elevator operator jobs disappeared in New York City alone, 8,000 during the past year.

Six men with modern machinery can lay the same amount of railway track as 100 men did before.

Automated examining equipment for checking transistors permit four men to do the work that 100 did a few years ago.

"How American education solves the problem of school dropouts may well determine America's future to the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

The greatest single factor in school dropouts, Schreiber said, is inability to read.

"Study after study has shown," he said, "that the average dropout is two years or more retarded in reading. . . Pupils who do not read well enough to do the work of their grade satisfactorily are apt to fail, and constant failing brings in its wake discouragement and discontent."

Family attitudes toward education is another important factor, Schreiber said. He cited studies in Louisiana and New York in which two-thirds of the parents interviewed said they didn't think that lack of a high school education would hamper their children's chances of getting a job.

The schools, he said, must: Devise better programs of instruction, particularly in reading. Work closely with parents to impress upon them the importance of a high school education.

Provide more and better guidance for the potential dropout.

Professor Takes Over Department

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. John E. Whitney, associate professor in the University of Arkansas School of Medicine, was named Thursday head of the Department of Physiology.

Whitney, who also was promoted to full professor, has been acting head of the department since it was created two years ago.

He will undergo nine weeks of recruit training to acquaint him with Naval life and customs.

Few things in this life gives more satisfaction than being able to park on what's left of the other fellow's nickel.

The 18 students making straight A averages at the U of A during the first semester included Charles E. Head of Prescott, a junior. . . seniors making the honor roll included Mary Jean Eppler of Hope and the freshmen included James L. Chandler of Nashville.

The Game and Fish Commission has moved up the frog season a month. . . April 16 through December 31, the daily bag limit is 12 in a calendar day or any continuous 24 hour period. . . only a fishing license is required.

Army Official Seizes Power in Burma

By PETER BOOG

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma's defense chief Gen. Ne Win seized power today for the second time in 3 1/2 years as the urbane army took over the country in a bloodless coup that caused no public excitement.

Prime Minister U Nu and other members of his government were placed under arrest and the nation's Parliament suspended as the army seized strategic communications, transportation and security points throughout the country.

An army source said about 10,000 troops and 30 tanks took up posts at key points throughout the capital and blocked all main roads leading in and out of Rangoon. Heavily armed troops backed by tanks ringed Rangoon Airport. All flights in and out of Burma were canceled.

In Rangoon, however, there were no looting on the streets and city dwellers went about their business seemingly unperturbed by the events. A large concentration of soldiers took station at the central police station in the heart of the city, and smaller concentrations were seen at all other police stations.

Win declared in a radio broadcast appealing for calm that the army had acted to halt a vastly deteriorating situation and to save the nation from disintegration.

What motivated the staunchly anti-Communist general's action was not immediately clear. But the coup coincided with growing opposition to a government plan to nationalize Burma's private import trade and a rise in strength of the extreme left-wing of the country's ruling party.

The nationalization plan had been scheduled to go into force Thursday. The government had claimed that foreign interests were gaining a stranglehold on the nation's economy, and that many Burmese firms had been transferring their import licenses to foreign companies.

The 2,500 private traders affected by the nationalization and a number of politicians fought bitterly against the government bill, charging that it was a long step toward communism. They may have enlisted Win's support.

Win, 51, a hero of Burma's independence movement, took over the government from U Nu in an army coup once before, on Sept. 26, 1958. Win charged there was a plot by Communists to seize power and U Nu agreed that he himself was unable to deal with the situation.

Win ruled as a military strongman for 15 months and then voluntarily stepped down for an election that saw the return of U Nu to power.

Scouting Teaches Girls Many Skills

Girl Scouting gives girls from 7 to 17 an opportunity to learn new skills and make new friends. This year the Girl Scouts are 50 years old, having been founded by Juliette Gordon Low in Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912.

In Hope the Melon Vine Neighborhood consists of 118 girls and 49 adult workers. The three Brownie Troops are led by Mrs. J. B. Martin, Mrs. Wilson Britt and Mrs. Hollis Moses. There is a total of 38 Brownie Scouts in the Melon Vine Neighborhood.

Leaders of the Intermediate Girl Scouts in the seven local troops are Mrs. Roy Allison, Mrs. Fred McElroy, Mrs. J. W. Franks, Mrs. H. W. Lindsey, Mrs. H. W. Seamans, Mrs. Steven Bader and Mrs. Arch Wylie. Each troop has an average of five adult workers.

All invite you to the Texarkana College Auditorium March 17 for the presentation of "Today and In Spirit," a pageant commemorating the 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

Industrial Meet
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday former Gov. Homer M. Atkins and Pat Wilson, president of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce, will represent Arkansas at a meeting of the Mid-America Industrial Development Council Thursday in Washington. The meeting was set by Gov. John Dalton of Missouri who is promoting the council composed of Arkansas, Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Reservoirs Important to Farm Areas

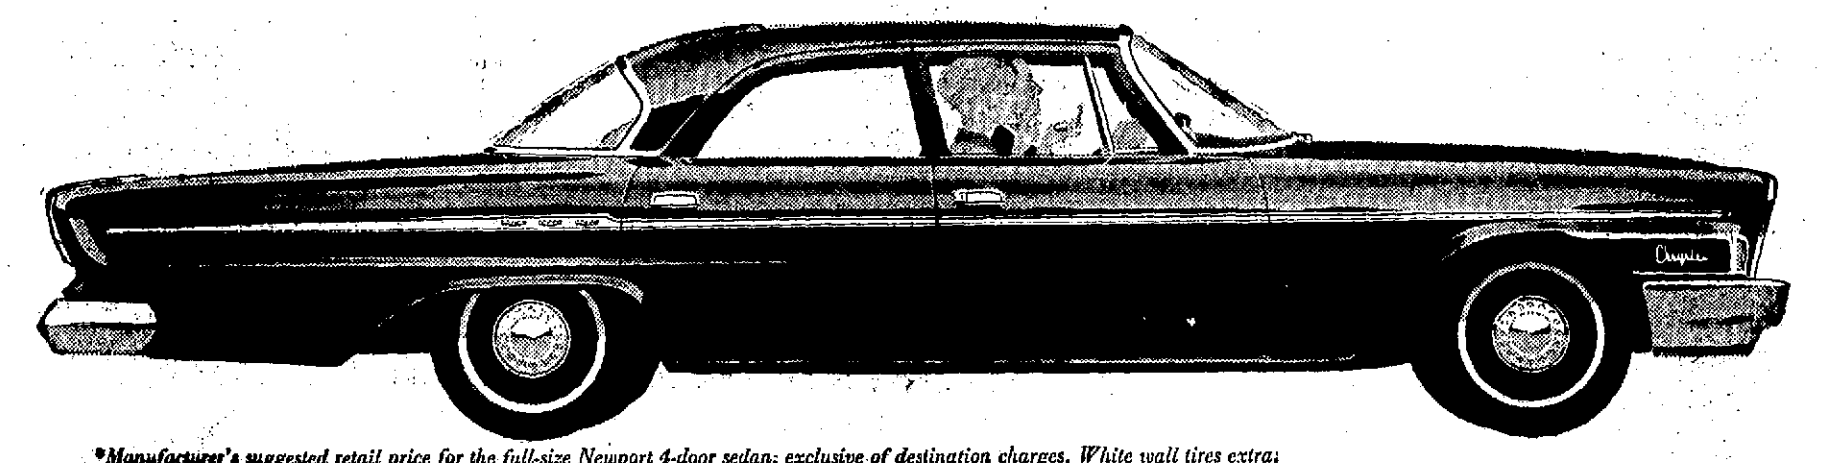

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Creation of reservoirs in rural areas is extremely important in stemming the farm to city population flow, a federal rural development expert said today.
Frank Pollard of Washington, assistant director of the Office of Rural Development, told a meeting of the Arkansas-White-Red Basins Interagency Committee that the government is concerned about improving opportunities of rural citizens.
One answer, he said, is to create job opportunities to hold persons in rural areas. Reservoirs are virtually a necessity, he explained, because industries must have adequate water supplies.
In addition, Pollard continued a valuable recreational economy develops around reservoirs, creating a demand for boats, fishing equipment, tourist accommodations, etc.
Reservoirs also are a boon to agriculture, Pollard said, by providing water for irrigation to help stabilize farm income and increase income possibilities.

Makes Bond ton Income Tax Charge

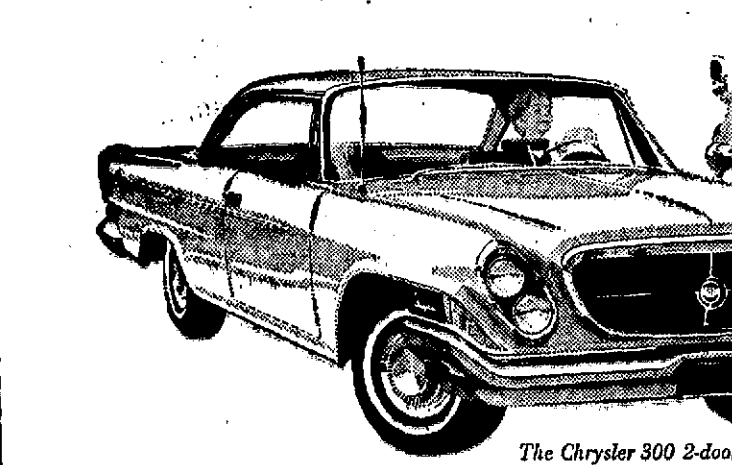

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Alfred L. Hildebrand, Stuttgart planter and land owner, posted $2,500 bond today on federal income tax charges.
A grand jury indicted Hildebrand Tuesday on charges that he failed to file tax returns on income totaling $404,561.98 over a five-year period from 1955 to 1959.
An information filed by U. S. Atty. Robert D. Smith alleges Hildebrand failed to report $102,475.44 in income for 1955, $77,515.72 for 1956, $91,862.83 for 1957, $35,197.87 for 1958 and $97,510.12 for 1959.
The indictment, although returned Tuesday, was not announced until Hildebrand appeared to make bond today.

Candidate Files

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—B. A. Courson filed as a Democratic candidate for state representative Thursday, only hours after he had resigned as Ashley County sheriff and tax collector. N. P. (Nap) Murphy, a former representative, has announced he will seek reelection.

We're happy to report that success hasn't spoiled Chrysler Newport.
Newport's still the full-size, beautifully engineered automobile that led Chrysler to new sales marks during the '61 model year . . . and continues to set a record sales pace so far this '62 model year.
Newport's a very solid success. Its all-welded body has no bolts to loosen. The ride is quiet, restful. There's genuine comfort for six people.
Newport's broad-shouldered V-8 engine has a surprisingly dainty appetite for all of its 265 horsepower—on a diet of 10% less-expensive regular gasoline.
Newport's no "jr. edition." Long anti-sway 122-inch wheelbase handles high winds as if it were on rails.
Newport's size is matched by its rich interiors. Newport's fabrics would lend color and distinction to any living room decor.
Newport's, more than ever, Chrysler's finest full-size value! Any Chrysler dealer would be happy to prove it!

Tax Revision Bill Okay With JFK

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has told Democratic leaders he is satisfied with a new tax revision bill which falls considerably short of meeting some of his recommendations and threatens a deficit.

But Sen. Harry S. Byrd, D-Va., said if the House passes the bill in its present form the Senate Finance Committee which he heads will take a good look at the measure to see if it can't eliminate what he said may be a $1.6-billion revenue loss.

Kennedy's word to the Democratic leaders that he is willing to take less than he asked for in tax revision was interpreted in some quarters as a presidential move to quiet political controversy in advance of congressional action on his international trade program.

There were indications the President recognizes that a squabble with the House Ways and Means Committee — which wrote the new tax bill — might endanger that group's approval later of a workable trade program.

Also in the background was the administration hope that the committee might eventually take some action on legislation to link medical care for the elderly to the Social Security system. This legislation is now stalemated in the committee.

The administration has scheduled House action on its tax proposal by March 15. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon urged Byrd's committee to curtail subsequent hearings to speed final congressional action. Byrd agreed to limit hearings to three weeks.

Byrd said in an interview that he is disturbed by the potential revenue loss to the Treasury posed by the bill. It would allow industry a direct credit of 8 percent against income tax for new machinery and other productive equipment.

This credit would cut business taxes about $1.6 billion. Tightened provisions on expense accounts — which are considerably less stringent than Kennedy recommended — and the closing of other tax given. Mrs. Bowden told how to make a new dress from an old one and Mrs. Young modeled the finished results as an illustration of her talk. Mrs. Bowden also explained how to make a pair of shorts and a small dress from another dress. Mrs. Carlton Roberts explained a shortie nightgown from an old shirt, and Mrs. Coy Breeding used a shirt to make a blouse.

Mystery dessert and coffee or cold drinks were served for refreshments. The March meeting will be with Mrs. George Hartsfield.

DOROTHY DIX
Wayward Son Bad Apple In This Family Barrel

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: We cannot trust our 16-year-old son whom we dearly love.

Of our seven children, he's the only bad apple, yet to look at him and hear him talk you'd say he was goodness itself.

He can lie so plausibly we blame ourselves until the truth outs. Ever since he was a child he has stolen. Each time we'd make him take the things back and say I was sorry. He was such a charmer that his victims usually wound up giving him whatever he had taken.

Last year he stole $40 from his grandfather. He has filched over $200 out of my husband's pockets and more from me. Tonight he took $7 I had left over from grocery money.

We've tried all manner of punishment to no avail. His marks are below average and he is generally indifferent. He had a key made for his father's car and wrecked it. He has torn up two good cars and a tractor, scattering them all over the place.

His dad has reached the breaking point. I'm afraid there will be a tragedy. Help us to help this wayward boy. —Tearful Mother.

Dear Tearful: Any human being who steals for the sake of stealing is troubled mentally. The old-fashioned word was kleptomania. Your son should be taken to the nearest Medical Center where a competent psychiatrist can examine him.

Dear Helen: I've been plagued by shyness since a child. Now that my husband is coming up in the world, this is a real problem for when we go to or give parties, I have a real black-out and am unable to chat casually with others. To the despair of my husband and myself, I am actually tongue-tied, sitting there like a bump on a log. Is there a course, or any treatment which might help me or must I either suffer in silence or shun all parties? —Distressed.

Dear Distressed: Take a course in public speaking and force yourself to talk. At first you'll feel like digging a hole and drawing it in after you, but the day will finally come when you actually enjoy talking, and may even fight, figuratively speaking, to get the floor. Practice makes perfect. Of course you must have something to say. Focus on a subject about which you have strong convictions. Learn that subject inside out, draw conclusions and speak up! Believe it or not, it can be fun.

loopholes, admittedly would not offset this revenue loss.

While rough estimates given to House members put the net loss to the Treasury at $600 million Byrd said he is convinced the total would be $1 billion more than that. He said the lower estimates are based on contentions that the tax credit provision would boost productivity and thus increase the over-all tax intake.

A reward poster issued at the time of her disappearance describes Maud as being five feet, five inches tall, weighing 165 pounds with reddish-gray hair. The $1,000 reward, pledged by her friends, still stands.

In the five years, Cole has traveled over 20,000 miles following leads. Theories on Maud's disappearance poured in from Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and California.

One person wrote that her body could be found beneath the Crawford house in an old cistern. Another suggested she had been hidden behind a wall in the house.

Camden police diligently checked each tip but they all proved worthless.

Crawford continues to live in the house which remains largely unchanged since his wife disappeared.

It's been two years or more since he has received any telephone calls about Maud.

"But I'm still waiting," Crawford said.

Arkla Plans $41 Million Expansion

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Plans for a gigantic $41 million natural gas pipeline extending from near Ozark into Coal County, Okla., were announced Wednesday by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

W. R. Stephens, Arkla board chairman, said the project, which has been in the planning stage since 1957, is expected to be completed by 1965.

Stephens termed the project the "keystone to industrial development of all types on the upper portion of the Arkla system, as it now is constituted."

He added the pipeline would offer an almost immediate market for natural gas producers in eastern Oklahoma and western and northern Arkansas.

Bradley and St. Louis to Fight It Out

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bearcats are now in the frustrating position of being able to do nothing but sit and wait, and hopefully polish their already glossy shells.

The Bearcats have finished their regular season play, but don't yet know whether they're going to make it to the NCAA Midwest regional tournament—the first stop in the defense of their national basketball championship.

They won't know until Saturday night when Bradley plays at St. Louis.

Cincinnati completed its regular season with a narrow, 61-58 victory over non-conference Xavier of Ohio. That gave the Bearcats, ranked second in the nation, a 24-2 record. They own a 10-2 mark in the Missouri Valley Conference and are assured of at least a tie.

Bradley is 9-2 in the conference and could tie Cincinnati with a victory over St. Louis, a team it beat at Peoria earlier this season. Should Bradley win, the Braves and Bearcats will meet in a one-game playoff for the right to compete in the NCAA tourney. The loser will get a bid to the NIT.

Seventh-ranked Bowling Green, already in possession of its league title, was victim of Thursday night's biggest upset, falling to Loyola of Chicago 81-68. Loyola, riding a nine-game winning string came from behind a three-point halftime deficit and took it going away, pouring in 45 points in the second half.

The other ranked teams in action, Utah (No. 10) and Duke (No. 8) had things much more their own way.

Utah (22-3) knocked off Colorado State 86-68, virtually assuring an NIT bid.

Utah leads the Skyline with a 12-1 record with one game to go. But Utah is on NCAA probation and not eligible for the tourney.

Utah State, 82-64 victor over Denver Thursday night, has a 20-5 record over-all and 11-2 with only a game against last place New Mexico to go in the Skyline.

Duke rolled over Maryland 71-58 and gained the semifinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney at Raleigh, N.C. They'll face Clemson, author of a whopping 67-46 upset of North Carolina State, in the round of four.

Wake Forest, which won the regular season title, charged past Virginia 81-58 and South Carolina edged North Carolina in the other first round games.

In leading Arkansas State College to an 86-63 basketball victory over Delta State here Wednesday night. The victory closes the basketball season for both squads with A State notching a 16-6 mark.

Jack Case paced Delta State with 25 points.

Midgely wobbled a little as he refilled their glasses and Marie thought she could risk being persistent.

"And the man before Turner, did he too, just wrote the little letters while my friend did the important work?"

Midgely lowered his voice to what he thought was a confidential whisper. "F-Fenton d-drank."

Marie looked shocked and he nodded. "Oh, yes. Knew you'd be shocked. So was I. Never tush the stuff, myself."

Midgely took a large swig of wine, and Marie had to turn away hastily. "But did not that make him unworthy for his work?" she asked, when she'd conquered a persistent giggle.

"Once, F-Fenton was drunk, right in the office." He leaned both elbows on the table. "What to hear 'bout it?"

"Oh, yes. Do tell me!" He laid a finger by his nose and winked hideously.

"Playing a little game, Fenton las. Had a little book, see?" He outlined a small square. "And this day when he'd been drinking, he got to b-boasting. 'M-Midgely,' he said, 'see this book? It's a little g-gold mine, and sheertain people are gonna pay mighty pretty dividends for it! That's what Fenton said. And it's my belief, he was sh-selling in'formation."

"I have heard that the policeman has told M'sieu Russell this Fenton have died, talking about this book, and saying your name."

Midgely dropped his glass with a clatter. "No! B-but why? I don't know anything. C-can't be true!"

"No, of course not," she soothed him. "But why does this upset you so, mon ami? No one suspects you of wrong doing!"

"C-can't be too careful where there's money." He leaned closer. "Then we will not speak of it any more." Marie was sure. It would do no good to persist.

"Come, drink, mon ami, let us be happy!"

Having extracted his home address from him earlier, Marie was soon able to have Midgely put in a hansom and driven away. She noticed, as he went off, that he was jolling heavily against the cushions, and seemed to be having some trouble breathing.

Too. She dismissed it as an effect of unaccustomed wine. And, in her anxiety to get away, she didn't notice the silent, footed Briggs leaving the booth behind the one she and Midgely had just vacated.

"So, the book's somewhere in the office?" Race leaned down, his eyes alight with a coaxing gleam. "Looks as though Petite will have to be off to the wars once more."

"Oh, but Race," Marie was dismayed. "I can't stand him, honest!"

"How else can we get the book?" Race murmured, kissing the curl by her ear.

"But I don't see what use that book can be, after all this time." Marie looked at him curiously.

"Midgely said it was Fenton's book. Why do you want it so much?"

"For my own good and sufficient reasons, Petite."

"It can't be anything to do with Miss Jenny," Marie said, thoughtfully. "Anyway, I hear she's off you for good."

His face darkened, and she knew she'd made a bad mistake. "That reminds me. I've been wanting to ask you, Mary-Marie. You're quite, quite sure nothing happened to any Miss Jenny?"

her to only for a minute. Then she started poking around the room. And all of a sudden she jerked the curtain back, and there I was! Marie, flustered nervously. "You should've seen her face!"

"So that was it! All right, Petite, I think I know what to do now, but you'd have been smarter to tell me sooner."

"You're not mad?"

"No. At least, I won't be," he smiled at her. "If you'll be good about Midgely and get him to find that book."

Hilda's concern about Addie's health lessened when he continued to be full of health and spirits. But once, he'd caused her some worry by asking, "Mamma, can syrup make you sick?"

"She was watching him eat his favorite breakfast of fried hominy and syrup. 'Why? Do you feel sick?'"

"No. Not now." He toyed with his fork, letting the syrup drip slowly from it. "I was just kind of remembering. There's other kinds of syrup, aren't there?"

"Yes. Fruit syrups, sugar syrups, and, oh, all kinds."

"Some kind of syrup that's sweet and nasty, too?"

"Some medicines are like that. Addie, what's this all about?"

"Nothing, Mamma. Not really. I guess, it must've been some medicine-syrup that made me sick."

Drew Central Fights to Semifinals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Drew Central meets Brinkley and Manila takes on Berryville in what should be a hot semifinal round in the Class A state basketball tournament at Barton Coliseum here today.

Brinkley, Manila and Berryville took quarterfinal victories Thursday, and Drew Central may have an edge because it hasn't played since Wednesday, when it beat Bentonville 57-50.

Brinkley edged Clinton 62-60, Manila beat Sheridan 69-57, and Berryville beat De Witt 69-47 Thursday.

The winners of today's games meet at 8:30 p.m. Saturday for the championship.

Sheridan played Manila to a tie at halftime, but the northeast Arkansas came back strong after intermission, controlled both backboards and quickly leaped into a safe lead.

All five Manila starters scored in double figures. Jerry Vance hit 10, Benny McCann 14, Terry Vance 11 and Harold Rainey and Huey Miles, 10 each.

Jerry Vance, a 6-5 front man, dominated the boards. Wally Freeman and Jerry Gaffing each hit 16 points for Sheridan.

Bill Patterson hit two field goals in the last minute to boost Brinkley to its two-point victory over Clinton. Clinton led 60-58 when Patterson broke across mid-court and sank a jump shot to tie it. Then Brinkley stole the ball and Patterson got away for a layup on a fast break.

He led scoring with 26 points and Ray Bonds netted 21 for Clinton.

Dean Autry scored 20 points and Gene Ary hit 17 in leading Berryville to its easy victory over De Witt. Berryville led 35-25 at halftime, but De Witt moved to within five points in the third quarter. Steve Rousseau scored 25 points for De Witt.

Lucas Heads All American Cage Team

BY TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP)—Five seniors topped by Ohio State's Jerry Lucas, make up the 1962 college basketball All-American announced today by The Associated Press.

Named to the first team with Lucas were Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Billy McGill of Utah, Chel Walker of Bradley and Len Chappell of Wake Forest. Lucas, Dischinger and Walker are repeaters from the 1961 All-American. In addition, Lucas is the first 3-time All-American since Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

Lucas, Dischinger and McGill topped the voting by 322 sports-writers and radio-TV broadcasters. On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two points for a second team nod Lucas polled 1,584 points, Dischinger got 1,273 and McGill 1,151.

Walker was next with 828 while the 240-pound Chappell barely won out over John Havlicek of Ohio State, and Art Heyman of Duke, for the last berth on the first team. Both Heyman and Havlicek received more first team votes, but Chappell sneaked in with 691 points helped by 103 second team votes.

Havlicek, with 686, and Heyman with 685 topped the second team. Joining them on the second five were Charles Nash of Kentucky (494) John Rudometkin of Southern California (416) and Rod Thorn of West Virginia.

Paul Hogue of Cincinnati, Don Nelson of Iowa, Jack Foley of Holy Cross, Jimmy Rayl of Indiana and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit landed the third team places.

The talents of the first team are well known to fans. All are tops when it comes to shooting, passing, floor work and rebounding.

Lucas, 6-8, led the Buckeyes to their third straight Big Ten title, while Dischinger, 6-7, was the Big Ten leading scorer. The 6-9 McGill set Skyline scoring records and the 6-6 Walker, known as the "Jet," became Bradley's all-time scorer. Chappell, one of the fastest 6-4 players in the game, led Wake Forest to the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship. He was a whizz during the latter part of the season.

Nash led Kentucky back to prominence as a sophomore while Heyman, a junior, was Duke's showpiece. Havlicek, a senior was a big factor in Ohio State's success.

Independents Advance in Dist. Play

The Spring Hill Independent Basketball team composed of Hope and Spring Hill lads, defeated Nashville's Independents last night at Princeton, 84 to 76 and advanced in the District Independent Tournament being held there.

High for Spring Hill was Brent Odum and Wayne Lee with 20 each. Harold Smith was high for the losers with 17.

The local team meets Henderson's Independents at 8:30 tonight at Princeton in the semi-final round.

Saylors Sets All Time Scoring Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ken Saylors, star of Arkansas Tech's championship basketball team, has set an Arkansas Inter-collegiate Conference scoring record of 30.8 points per game.

The record was announced Thursday — the last day of the regular season — when Arkansas A&M beat Henderson 65-60 in the league's last game.

The final game solidified the pairings for the first round of the Region 17 NAIA tournament in Pine Bluff Saturday. Tech will meet Henderson at 9:15 p.m., State Teachers will take on Ozarks at 8:45 p.m., Henderson will face Ouachita at 7:30 p.m. and Arkansas College will play Arkansas A&M at 2 p.m.

Semifinals are Monday and finals are Tuesday.

Saylors held a healthy lead in the scoring race all the way, and the only question was whether he could stay above the 30 point mark. A furious final two weeks left him safely above that mark, and AIC Commissioner Cliff Shaw said no other AIC player had ever scored that high.

Howard Lamb of State Teachers was second with a 21.6 average and Birdie Rogers of Arkansas College was third at 19.9. Then came Cleve Branscum with an 18.5 average.

Arkansas A&M broke the final game open in the second half and led by as much as eight points before Henderson cut the final margin to five. Charles Cobb paced the Aggies with 19 points and Sam Barker led Henderson with 12.

The victory left AOM with a 12-6 AIC card and Henderson slipped to 9-7.

Hendrix beat Little Rock University 58-56 in a non-league game Thursday.

A&M, which finished with a rush is a prime darkhorse candidate in the NAIA tournament.

Last year, Tech won the AIC championship and State Teachers won the tournament and went to the national meet in Kansas City.

Hull Could Tie Hockey Scoring

BOSTON (AP)—If Bobby Hull ties the National Hockey League single season record for goals, he owes a tip of his stick to Boston. The blond Chicago strong boy scored twice Thursday night in the 5-4 victory over the Bruins and needs eight goals in as many contests to reach 50. It was the only game scheduled.

All NHL rivals have been thriving on the porous Boston defense this year, but none with quite the fine touch of Hull.

Bobby has 42 goals—14 of them at Bruins expense.

Old Casey Has a Job in Store

by DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The last time Casey Stengel jolted down an official lineup, before the Yankee front office decided his advancing age called for a change, he scribbled: Richardson 2b, Kubek ss, Marif rf, Mantle cf, Berra lf, Skowron lb, Blanchard c, Boyer 3b and Dittmar p. 1

That was for the seventh game of the 1960 World Series with Pittsburgh and Stengel must have been thinking back to that date in October 18 months ago when he wrote a lineup again Thursday.

It read Ashburn cf, Zimmer 3b, Bell rf, Thomas lf, Marshall lb, Mantilla ss, Lepcio 2b, Landrith c, and Craig p.

The lineup, the No. 1 team for Stengel's new New York Mets' first intrasquad game today, will be amended shortly to get Gil Hodges in at first base and Charlie Neal at second. But it still indicates the kind of a job Stengel has ahead of him in his return to baseball after a season on the sidelines.

Ashburn last year hit .257 and claims is wrecking over-all performance.

The more players the Nats lose, the more the team wins. As Dolph Schayes quipped the other day: "If we can manage to lose a couple more regulars, we might wind up winning the whole thing."

The Nats, rarely able to dress more than seven players the last month, lasted off in the second half Thursday night for a 137-108 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in the only NBA action. They made it look easy, although high scorer Hal Greer is sidelined with a swollen thigh, Schayes himself is out again after missing many games with a fractured cheekbone, and 7-foot-3 Swede Halbrook still is unable to play.

Sparkman and Casa Meet in B Semifinals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sparkman and Casa, two of the winningest basketball teams in Arkansas, swept through the first two rounds of the Class B state basketball tournament and turned their guns on each other in the semifinals today.

Scranton and Mt. Pleasant

Zimmer .252 with the Cubs, Bell .255 with Cincinnati, Thomas .261 with the Cubs and Braves, Marshall .222 with the Giants, Mantilla .239 with the Braves, Lepcio .167 with the Minnesota Twins, Landrith .239 with the Giants and Craig won 5 and lost 6 with the Dodgers.

"You need experience to get a team like this going," Stengel said the other day. Patience probably will help too.

The Detroit Tigers' patience seems to be wearing thin in their negotiations with slugger Rocky Colavito.

With Rocky en route by car from his home in Temple, Pa., to the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla. training base, Detroit veep Rick Ferrell said: "I see where Colavito said he was swinging a lead bat to keep in shape. Well, he sure swung one in 1960 when he hit .249." Colavito, who perked up .290 with 45 homers last season, wants at least a $15,000 raise over his 1961 salary of $35,000.

whose records stack up as well, or better face each other in the other semifinal game tonight.

Sparkman is 37-1 and Casa is 32-1. Scranton is 36-6 and Mt. Pleasant is 30-1. Combined, the four semifinalists have won 144 games and lost nine.

Sparkman beat Lincoln in the quarterfinals Thursday 74-50. Scranton eliminated highly regarded Marmaduke 67-62, and Mt. Pleasant beat Mt. Judea 51-42.

Casa entered the semifinals with an 89-71 victory over Oden.

Sparkman ran away from Lincoln in the second period, scoring 10 straight points in the opening minutes of the quarter. After that, it was no contest.

Tom Presley led Sparkman with 24 points and Danny Denton added 18.

Lonnie Cantrell paced Lincoln with 25.

John Nedham and Eddy Hill moved Scranton from behind for its victory over Marmaduke, Marmaduke led 52-51 going into the fourth quarter, but Nedham and Hill combined for 10 quick points and Scranton won going away.

Nedham led scoring with 25 points. Jerry McIntosh scored 25 for Marmaduke.

Mt. Pleasant posted a nine-point halftime lead against Mt. Judea and made it stand up throughout the second half. Mt. Pleasant slowed the game, drew fouls, and protected its advantage at the charity line.

Fred Lamb hit four free throws and a jump shot in the last four minutes and led Mt. Pleasant in scoring with 16 points. Norman Hill and Junior Dodson each scored 10 for Mt. Judea.

Nats Thriving on Long Schedule
